University Prepares Gala Welcome For Alumni

AFROTC Officer Tests Space Suit Forerunner

Maj. Kenneth O. Johnson, Air Force ROTC instructor at the University, recently received the Air Force Air Medal for high altitude testing of the forerunner of the pressure suit that will eventually be used by America's first space man.

Maj. Johnson tested the pressure suit during photo reconnaissance missions over western Europe in 1956. The altitude at which he flew is considered classified information by the Air Force, but it was at least 50,000 feet. The award of the medal was withheld for three years primarily because of the secrecy surrounding the project.

The original suit tested by Maj. Johnson, now obsolete, was the first to give complete body protection. The suit has undergone considerable redesigning since it was first introduced.

Although each pressurized suit was custom-fit, they were still extremely uncomfortable, according to Maj. Johnson. His entire flying outfit, including suit and helmet, parachute, emergency kits, and oxygen bottle, weighed about 60 pounds. "It was a struggle just to walk out to the plane," he recalled. "If I had to fly a four-hour mission, I was in that suit for eight hours. It took that long to put it on, prepare for flight, and then take it off afterward."

When inflated, the fabric of the suit pulled tight, like a cast. Any wrinkles after the suit was inflated usually resulted in blood blisters from pinching.

"Lack of oxygen is a subtle killer," the major explained. "During pressure chamber tests, I once passed out at a simulated altitude of 28,000 feet. The last thing I remember was that I thought I was doing a great job of following instructions—writing my name, for example. That turned out to be a scribble. And I had trouble adding 4 and 5, although it didn't appear to be a problem at the time. It's hard to tell when you're losing your oxygen. At 50,000 feet, a pilot has just seven seconds to live, without oxygen."

In Europe, Maj. Johnson flew a two-engine jet bomber, the B-57. On high altitude flights, the major was his own navigator, because of the weight problem. "We carried just enough fuel to get us back to the base. If we didn't land with almost empty tanks, we didn't consider it a successful mission," he said.

Maj. Johnson joined the Air Force in 1943, and was trained as a P-51 Mustang fighter pilot. During the Korean conflict he flew the F-94 Starfire all-weather interceptor for the Air Defense Command at Tacoma, Wash., and then B-26s, on bombing and reconnaissance runs in Korea.

Tower Work Halts As Strike Goes On

The steel strike has temporarily halted erection of a new press box tower in the stadium, announced F. Eugene Beatty, director of buildings and facilities.

Although it was scheduled for completion in August, it is doubtful that the tower will be erected until after Homecoming. Until construction is completed, temporary measures will be used to enable photographers to take game pictures.

The new tower will be 15 feet higher than the old one, and will contain an aluminum and glass enclosure to be used by photographers, timers, and public address announcers.

Sherwood Play Tryouts Slated

Tryouts for "Petrified Forest," second major production of the year, will be held at 7 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 12 and 13, in Gate Theatre.

Anyone with previous engagements for both nights who wishes to be asked to contact Dr. Stanley Kahan, director of the production, Room 331 South Hall, for a personal audition.

"Petrified Forest" is a thrilling drama of action and ideas, set in Arizona. The play is unique in its casting; it calls for 18 men's and three women's roles. "There are roles for men of all sizes and shapes," said Dr. Kahan.

The play, by Robert E. Sherwood, was chosen to represent the decade of the 30's in keeping with the speech department's plan to correlate its plays with the University's Fiftieth Anniversary Celebration.

Robert E. Sherwood is a liberal playwright who has won the Pulitzer Prize three times, for his plays "Idiot's Delight," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," and "There Shall Be No Night."

"The Petrified Forest" was instrumental in launching Humphrey Bogart in gangster roles. From his role in this play, Humphrey Bogart went on to become famous in film gangster portrayals. The play was also made into a successful movie starring Bette Davis, Leslie Howard, and Bogart.

Alumni Association Board Of Directors Meet In Taft Room

The University Alumni Association Board of Directors is meeting today in the Taft Room of the University Union.

Board members will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald at a noon luncheon. Dr. Elden T. Smith, dean of students, will address the group in the afternoon session. The main item on the agenda will be selection of the winner of the Distinguished Alumni Award and discussion of the annual alumni giving program.

Officers are: Jerry Helwig, '54, president; Earl Nissen, '53, secretary; and Kenneth Harger, '41, treasurer.

Serving on the Board are: Mrs. Edwin Blackford (Nancy Richardson) '54; Rev. Don Cryer, '34; Don Cunningham, '43; William Day, '50; Richard Dunipace, '42; Mrs. Ralph Eakins (Christine Skodlar) '58; Jackie Gribbons, '54; Mrs. Gerald B. Harms (Margery Mooney) '47; Esther Hayhurst, '30; James Inman, '37; Jonathan Ladd, '26; Mrs. George Lamb (Linda Gee) '59; James Limbacher, '49; Dr. Kermit Long, '39; Esther March, '26; Shirley Merritt, '54; Lanny Miles, '57; Norman K. Nunemaker, '59; Alan L. Rosenberg, '50; James Hof, '50; Arthur Shanley, '40; Robert Shelton, '29; Franklin G. Skibbie, '26; Jack R. Taylor, '53; Robert Taylor, '52; Edward Ward, '58; and Gordon Ward, '58.

"Alumni everywhere—in every nook and corner." The words of Kenneth E. Krouse, director of alumni affairs, describe the anticipated influx of thousands of former Bowling Green students to campus Saturday.

The "alums" returning to the site of their undergraduate activities will find the red, or more appropriately, "gold" carpet rolled out. The Fiftieth Anniversary theme, combined with an abundance of alumni-gear activities, are expected to make the 1959 Homecoming the most colorful in the University's history.

Starting with the Alumni Board of Directors' meeting today, the special events will continue through tomorrow with registration and departmental open houses beginning the day at 10 a.m. in the Alumni Room of the University Union. The official kick-off of the University's Golden Anniversary celebration will come tomorrow at a noon luncheon in the Grand

SEAL AND MOTTO FEATURED

The keynote luncheon, scheduled for tomorrow, officially will open the Fiftieth Anniversary year. In order to promote the Anniversary theme, the Fiftieth Year seal and motto (both above) will be run in this and all subsequent issues of the 1959-1960 B-G NEWS.

The seal was developed by Dr. Harold Van Winkle, assistant professor of Journalism, and Carol Creason, '59.

The motto was originated by Dennis Blue, junior in the College of Education.

12 Cases Tried In Student Court

Student Court held its second hearing Tuesday, Oct. 5. Twelve cases were heard.

Keith Trowbridge was charged with two parking violations. He was found not guilty of the first charge and guilty of the second. His fine was suspended. John Brubaker, Mike Phillips, and Don Williams were found guilty of improper display of their car registration tags. Brubaker was given a suspended fine. Phillips and Williams were fined $1.

Thomas Brown was charged with two parking violations. He was found not guilty of the first and guilty, with a suspended fine, of the second.

Donald Campnell, Milton Smith, John Lawson and Mary Martin were charged with parking violations.

Campnell was fined $1. Smith, Lawson, and Miss Martin all were found not guilty.

Jerry Klein was charged with non-registration of his car but, upon further examination, it was found that he was not given enough time to secure a temporary permit. He was found not guilty.

Two cases were tried in absentia. Ronald Fries was found guilty of improper display of his car registration tag and fined $1. Ed Travis was found guilty of a parking violation, and was fined $1.

WARREN COVINGTON

Ballroom of the University Union, where President Ralph W. McDonald will set the pace for Anniversary activities with a keynote address.

A football game pitting the Bowling Green Falcons against the Broncos of Western Michigan will be the next high point on the day's agenda. The presentation of the 1959 Homecoming Queen and her court will be featured in the pre-game festivities which are scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. in the stadium. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

After the game, open house and a coffee hour will continue in the Alumni Room until 6 p.m. The annual Homecoming dance with the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, featuring Warren Covington, will climax the day's activities. The dance will be held in the Grand Ballroom from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Members of the Alumni Board of Directors will judge house decorations which will garland fraternity and sorority houses and residence halls tomorrow. The theme for decorations this year is based on the University's 50 years of growth. Downtown Bowling Green and the stadium will also be "dressed up" for the occasion.

The annual pep parade and rally will be held tonight at 6:30 p.m. Starting from Prout Hall, the Falcon cheerleaders will lead the group west on Ridge St. to Thurston St., and south on Thurston to Wooster St., picking up sororities and off-campus fraternities on the way. The parade will then proceed east on Wooster gathering men and women from Founders, Kohl, Rodgers, and Fraternity Row, finally turning north to Parking Lot 1 where the rally will take place.

Results of yesterday's campus-wide election will remain secret until pre-game festivities tomorrow, when the identity of the queen and her court will be revealed.

Talent To Be Selected For Dad's Day Show

Talent Night will be held from 7 to 10 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 15 in the Carnation Room of the University Union.

Talent will be selected for the Dad's Day Variety Show and for general all-campus entertainment.

There will be no pre-registration, and costumes will not be necessary. A record player will be furnished. Any type of act can be presented.

Trade Article Written By University Alumnus

Carroll W. Cheek, '47, has written an article entitled "What the CPA Can Do To Help Small Business," which was published in the June issue of the Journal of Accountancy.

Mr. Cheek a former member of the University faculty, is the senior partner in the Bowling Green accounting firm of Cheek and Kaser. He is a member of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Dramatics Fraternity To Meet This Sunday

Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatics fraternity, will hold its second meeting of the year at 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 11. The meeting will be at the home of Prof. John H. Hepler, adviser to the group.

"If members will be in parking lot 15, next to Gate Theatre, by 3 p.m., transportation will be provided," said Lou Bove, president.

After the business meeting refreshments will be served.

Style Show Is Well Received

Sixteen fraternity men modeled the latest in men's sports clothing at the Interfraternity Council Style Show—first of its kind ever held on this campus—in the Grand Ballroom Monday night.

Diane Torgler, Miss Cleveland of 1960, was flown to Bowling Green to attend the function. "I can't believe how much it has grown since I visited BG five years ago," said Miss Torgler.

Joe Gunderman of Sigma Chi said, "Although there was a small turnout it is a step in the right direction toward helping the men on campus decide what to wear."

Bob Starkweather, who was in charge of the program, said, "For being the first men's style show on this campus, it was a success." He indicated, also, that a similar event is planned for the spring.

Clothes for the show were provided by the men's department of LaSalle's. Among the featured styles were wash and wear sports shirts, McGregor shagline sweaters, tapered slacks, tweed sports coats, and, as a highlight, a black cord suit.

Mr. Ed Ackerman, merchandise manager from the Akron branch of LaSalle's, was commentator for the show.

CLASSROOM ATTIRE—A costume for the well-dressed college man is modeled by Tom Green, Kappa Sigma, at the recent IFC Style Show.

Open House Scheduled

Williams Hall is having open house and coffee hour at 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10. The affair is open to all who wish to attend.

Fraternities Pledge Additional Rushees

Eight additional men have been pledged to fraternities in upper-class rush, according to Wallace W. Taylor Jr., dean of men and adviser to the Interfraternity Council. This brought the final total of men pledged to 85 for the period ending last Sunday.

Freeburne Speaks On Psychology Instruction

The Ohio Psychological Association will hold its annual meeting Oct. 15 and 16 in Dayton.

Dr. Cecil M. Freeburne, associate professor of psychology, will be one of the speakers. His topic will be, "The Teaching of Psychology as Part of the Liberal Arts Program."

Editorially Speaking

What Will They Find?

Alumni are here today from many different areas of the country, from many different walks of life, and perhaps for many different reasons. In these respects they represent a highly diverse group.

But, regardless of their diversity, recent graduates and "old-timers" as well, have come with a common question in mind: "What will I find?"

For those present undergraduates who have been connected closely with the University in its period of accelerated growth and expansion, the answer is somewhat obvious. However, for those who have been comparatively "out of touch," a preview of what to expect is in order.

Here is what we believe the returning alumni will see:

First, they will be impressed by the numerous additions and improvements in the physical facilities at our disposal. Though the subject may seem trite to the current student, many of the alumni will be viewing the University's "new look" for the first time.

Second, they will be warmed by the fact that the spirit of friendliness which they kindled and fed has not died out but, rather, is growing as rapidly as the student body itself.

Third, they will find enthusiasm on the part of that student body, which will be demonstrated in the Homecoming displays, the group meetings, the open houses, and the annual parade.

Fourth, they will find substantially higher educational and social standards. This too, will be evident through observation and conversation. They will realize that, indirectly, such improvement is aiding them by adding prestige to the name of their Alma Mater.

These are the things that they can be sure of finding. They are the things which have changed only for the better since their departure.

However, in the face of this change, one thing has remained. We refer to the welcome which awaits those returning alumni. This will always remain, both at Homecoming and throughout the year, because of the realization that these same alumni laid the very foundations for the things they will return to find and from which we now benefit.

50th Year Flashbacks

EDITOR'S NOTE: To reflect the progress of the University in its 50 years of existence, this column is entered as a regular feature. Here, both factual and humorous excerpts from past issues of the B-G NEWS will be printed, so that the University family may become better aware of the full significance of this anniversary year.

Nov. 6, 1956

President Ralph W. McDonald announced the long-range master plan for the expansion of the University. Included in the plan are 15 new classroom buildings and residence halls, and additions and improvements to five presently existing buildings. Three of the new buildings, the University Union, Founders Quadrangle, and the Hall of Music, are now under construction.

Feb. 19, 1954

"By 1955, we plan to open dormitories comparable to any you can find in the country," stated Ralph W. McDonald, in pointing out the progress the administration has made since his appointment as President in 1951. He indicated that the most progress has been made by obtaining a stronger faculty, a higher salary scale, and increased appropriations for the construction of new classrooms.

March 16, 1951
An examination of a dusty, moldering, and crumbling 1925 edition of the B-G NEWS has revealed that:

A detailed map of the "future" campus shows that expansion plans have gone awry. The ground where Kohl Hall now stands was originally intended for an orchard.

An auditorium, a pool, and a museum were to be built on the Library Mall. The plan shows a building labeled "High School" sketched in on the location where the Practical Arts Bldg. now stands. A classroom building was supposed to be built on the spot that's now occupied by the Nest.

All buildings and grounds were to total $1,250,000 in value. Today the estimated value is between $10 and $11 million.

Production Staff Set For 'Harvey'

The production staff for "Harvey," the University Theatre production to be presented Oct. 28 through 31, has been announced, and all those selected have begun work with their respective crews.

The staff includes: director's assistant, Jack Weisheit; stage manager, Wanda Chynoweth; ass't stage manager, Nancy Wheelock; stage carpenter, Glen Schmidt; stage crew, Doug Palmer (head), Jan Stash, Chuck Kersey, and Shirley Myrus; prop crew, La Delle Gerlach (head), Mary Sterling, Carol Lenz, Pat Reghetti, Dottie Hayes, and Sherry Raidy; costume crew, Sandra Hablitzel (head), Kay Magargee, Marty Lilly, and Bert Ronke; make-up crew, Mary Hunter (head), Gail Peery, Shirley Pimlot, and Bobbie Yackel; sound crew, Carol Quimby; publicity, Connie Dick (head), Leslie Fowler, Roberta Wolfer, and Chuck Szabo.

How To Choose Campus Queens

By HARVEY BIBICOFF

Hold it! Before you look anywhere else you might as well find out what's here. Well, what is going to be here? That's a good question. I hope to have a little of everything note worthy.

BIBICOFF

There will be some campus talk about current and timely topics at B.G. notes on world news, some humor, fashions, and just about anything else you might want to read. By the way, if you have something about which you would like to comment, drop me a line at the B-G NEWS office. Well—here goes.

Is there a better way of selecting campus queens than is now being used? I definitely think there is! I know of very few places where a campus beauty is picked by a picture. The method of selecting Miss Ohio, Miss America, and Miss Universe seems to work. Why not adopt some of its phases? A panel could be chosen to study the candidates at two separate times. One meeting could be at a dinner or tea, the purpose being to let the judges check personality. A second meeting should be the actual beauty contest during which the contestants should be wearing evening gowns. I'm sure that such a system would surely prove to be a more satisfactory method of selection.

"We want an 'open' rush system." How many times I've heard that in the past three years, I can't even recall. Well, what happened? A few days ago an "open" rush system terminated with the offering of 97 bids and the acceptance of 81 of those bids. For those who don't know by now, that was 97 bids given to more than 160 men who signed up for rush. Why so few?

Were the rules so restrictive that they inhibited the freedom of the rushees or the rushees? I think not. The fact is, the rush has proved to be too lenient. The rushees weren't led around by a ring in their collective nose, and the houses weren't given a formal rush pattern to follow.

Too many good men went to only one house, met just one group of Greeks, and were satisfied with what they saw. They had no perspective, no scope. Then, when for some reason there was no bid waiting for them on Sunday

'Great Actors' First Matinee

"Great Actors of the Past," was the title of the first program in this year's Matinee Series. The program featured recordings of performances by actors Edwin Booth, John Barrymore, and George M. Cohan. It was held in the Ohio Suite of the University Union, Dr. Stanley Kahan supervised.

from that one house, they were shocked.

On the other hand the fraternities themselves can be blamed. Most of them expected the rushees to hang on the fraternity house doors and beg to be shown the advantages of fraternity life. They just sat back and expected the store to take care of itself. And now they wonder why so small a percentage of the rushees pledged.

The sad conclusion that must be drawn is that until the Greek organizations and the rushees grow up to the fact that rushing must be done conscientiously, they must continue to be led through rush by a set of demanding rush rules.

All-American Candidate To Face BG Tomorrow

When Western Michigan takes the field tomorrow afternoon, many eyes will be focused on number 43, a 5-10, 195-pound fullback named Lovell Coleman. Many fans will remember last year's Western Michigan game, when Coleman took a kick-off three yards behind his own goal line and raced 103 yards through the entire Falcon team for WM's only score in a 40-7 Bowling Green romp. He went on to pace the Mid-American Conference in rushing and to gain honorable mention on UPI's All-American team. Coleman could well be the best player Bowling Green will face all year.

He will be watched closely after his banner year in 1958. He gained a total of 1,068 yards in 177 carries, or better than six yards per carry, to rank seventh in the nation in small-college rushing. He missed the MAC rushing record by a scant three yards, winding up with 592 yards in conference games. He also was the scoring leader in the conference with 94 points made on 15 touchdowns and four extra points. He was a unanimous choice for an All-MAC first team berth. His 1958 feats were all the more impressive in that he was playing for a team which had a rather mediocre 4-5 record.

Thus far this season, Coleman has not reached last year's form. In his team's three games he has carried the ball 62 times for 197 net yards, or only 3.2 yards per carry. Coleman is now the workhorse of the WM team. He has toted the ball on more than half of the Bronco's running plays, thereby accounting for more than half of the Bronco rushing yardage. In addition, in an attempt to open up the offense, WM quarterbacks are now throwing to him more often. In fact, he now ranks second in the MAC in pass receiving. He also has scored three touchdowns to tie for the league lead in that department.

Phi Delta Theta Wins In Football

Phi Delta Theta overwhelmed Sigma Alpha Epsilon 37-0 as fraternity football moved into its second round last Saturday.

Bobby Dawson was the high scorer for the victors, scoring 13 points. Don Purvis was next in line with 12, while Bob McLean and Roy Malin each scored six.

Theta Chi ran up the next highest score by beating Tau Kappa Epsilon 32-6, as Jay Fickes scored 30 points. Bob Wolf and Tom Gaertner added conversions. Joe Walters scored the only TKE touchdown in the first quarter.

In another contest Kappa Sigma beat Phi Kappa Tau 20-0. For the Kappa Sigs, Jerry Jester and Art Heslet each scored twice and converted twice, while Ed Tiller scored a single touchdown. Sigma Chi downed Sigma Alpha Epsilon 27-12, on scores by John Swope, Rex Leach, Fred Stumpo and Denny DeVinney, while Tom Lyons and Dave Laudick each scored once for the losers.

Delta Upsilon defeated Alpha Tau Omega 20-12 on scores by Joe DiPaola, Roger Flower and Dick Bugeda. Ed Kneisl added two conversions. Terry Kruger was the only ATO able to crack the DU defense, as he hit pay dirt twice for the loser's 12 points. Pi Kappa Alpha and Zeta Beta Tau did not play their scheduled game.

Under the direction of Dr. David Matthews, who is assisted by John Lafier and Don Beran, the games will continue on the intramural fields on Monday.

Harriers Are First In Triangular Meet; Scott Paces Squad

Although the Falcon harriers won two meets, from Ohio Wesleyan and Albion, Wednesday, the wins may have been costly. Veteran Larry Dove suffered a re-occurrence of foot blisters that will keep him out of action against Central State today.

The final scores in the double-dual meet were: BG 20, Albion 37; and BG 24, Ohio Wesleyan 33, running the Falcons' dual meet record to three wins and no losses for the season.

John Scott's 21:10 was good for first place and Dave Armstrong took second in 21:24 to pace the winners. Three Ohio Wesleyan runners took third, fourth, and fifth. Don Bourquard, Jim Planicka, and Paul Wintermark came in at 21:30, 21:40, and 21:40.5.

Albion's best was Dave Beeler, who finished with 21:55. Bob Frost, former BG varsity track and cross country star, finished seventh running for Ft. Benjamin Harrison, an army post. He plans to return to the University in February.

High School Relays Set For Saturday

Runners ranking among Ohio's top high school cross country talent will meet in the BGSU High School Relays, Saturday, Oct. 10, at the University airport. Approximately 30 schools will be represented.

According to Dr. David Matthews, BGSU cross country coach, the event is the only one of its type held in the nation, and will serve as a preview of the state high school meet.

There will be five men on each team, with each man running two miles. The race will be divided into five flights. One runner from each school will run in each race. Individual runners will be timed and team places will be decided by the total time of each team's runners. No batons will be used.

Of the 30 schools participating, 20 will return from last year's entries, including Akron North and Cleveland West Tech, which finished first and second, respectively, in last year's meet.

Falcons Meet Broncos In Homecoming Contest

The Western Michigan Broncos, led by ace fullback Lovell Coleman, will be the Falcons' opponent Saturday in the Homecoming gridiron battle, scheduled to get under way at 2 p.m. in the University stadium.

The Broncos have won one contest and lost two so far this season. They went down to defeat in their opener to Central Michigan, 21-15, and Miami handed WM its first Mid-American Conference setback, 21-0. However, the Broncos rebounded last Saturday, crushing Marshall College, 52-0.

Coleman leads the Broncos' offense, having broken almost every WM football record. Last season he gained a total of 1,068 yards in 177 carries. He has the speed to break loose and go the distance, as the records show.

With Coleman in the backfield is another speedster, Jesse Madden, a senior halfback and two-time letter winner. Madden is used primarily at halfback, but can also be used in spot assignments at quarterback.

The other halfback position is held down by Lloyd Swelnis who, like his running mates in the backfield, can run the 100-yard dash in less than 10 seconds.

The Broncos have two fine sophomore quarterbacks, Don Seckell is top man at the moment. Ed Chlebek returns to WM's lineup, after being sidelined with a knee injury, adding depth to the signal calling position.

The ends are probably the strongest points in the Bronco line. Rich Jeric, who played guard for two seasons, has been shifted to the flank. The other end probably will be either Jim Woehler or Henry Mugg.

Clarence Cheatham and Ted Binkowski, both veterans, will hold down the guard positions, another strong point in WM's attack. Cheatham is a good prospect for the all-conference team this year.

A possible weak spot in the forward wall may be at the tackles, where sophomores are counted on to carry the load. The only returning lettermen at this spot

IT'S WHAT'S UP FRONT THAT COUNTS

As sure as little apples, Newton knew that what goes up must come down.

But when it comes down to a really pleasurable filter cigarette, it's what goes up—in front of the filter, that is—that makes the difference!

And there's where Winston had an inspired idea—Filter-Blend! Winston specially selects choice, mild tobaccos, then spe-

Filter-Blend also makes Winston America's best-selling, best-tasting filter cigarette. Take it from Sir Isaac:

Hubach Writes Book On Travel

The Wayne State University Press, Detroit, has accepted a 650-page manuscript by Dr. Robert R. Hubach, associate professor of English, and will publish it sometime next year. The book is a critical, annotated bibliography of Midwestern travel literature up to 1850, valuable as a reference work to the historian and student of literature.

Entitled "An Annotated Bibliography of Midwestern Travel Narratives, 1635-1850," it is divided into 13 chapters, with introductions and footnotes. Such subjects as French travel, literature about the Midwest, tales of Indian captivity, and books of famous writers who saw the frontier, are included.

Snyder Appointed To Business Staff

Marion A. Snyder, of Luckey, has been named to the business staff at the University.

Mr. Snyder, '47, also attended Davis Business College, and the Army Finance School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. During his military service, he headed the accounting section of Army finance units in England, Africa, Sicily, and Italy.

Mr. Snyder and his family reside at 210 Adams St., Luckey.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

Dr. Frood, Ph.D.

DR. FROOD'S MORAL OF THE MONTH

Things worth having are worth working for. For example: If you want a football letter, find a football player and ask him to write you one.

Dear Dr. Frood: I'm flunking everything but math. I get D in that. Help me.
(Name withheld by request)

Dear Withheld: Spend less time on math.

Dear Dr. Frood: I have a ravishingly beautiful girl in my class. Sadly, she is witless. Should I flunk her?

Bookish

Dear Bookish: Pass her. Other professors are waiting.

Dear Dr. Frood: I go steady with two girls—one in the dorm, one in the Theta house. Traveling between the two places is making a wreck of me. What to do?
Tired

Dear Tired: Get your girl to get your girl into her sorority.

DR. FROOD AND THE AMAZING NEW FILTER

I had occasion recently to study the remarkable "no smoke" filter made of solid lead. No matter how hard you puff, you get no smoke. Incidentally, a pack of these cigarettes weighs 2 pounds. Luckies weigh less . . . and you get smoke. The best.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a 35-year-old freshman. Should I wear a beanie?
Worried

Dear Worried: If I were a 35-year-old freshman, I'd wear a mask.

Dear Dr. Frood: Nobody likes me. Girls despise me. Men can't stand me. Prof's detest me. Dogs snap at my cuffs. What should I do?
Hated

Dear Hated: Don't ask me. I don't like you, either.

Dear Dr. Frood: I'm a non-conformist. But I smoke what everybody else smokes—Lucky Strike. How can I be different and still smoke Luckies?

I. M. Odd

Dear Mr. Odd: Light both ends of the Lucky and insert a straw into the middle. Sip the smoke through the straw and say "wildsville" after each puff.

COLLEGE STUDENTS SMOKE MORE LUCKIES THAN ANY OTHER REGULAR!

When it comes to choosing their regular smoke, college students head right for fine tobacco. Result: Lucky Strike tops every other regular sold. Lucky's taste beats all the rest because L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco:
